as they're transitioning into their community upon release from custody

SCOTT'S STORY

"Refuge Ministries Canada", has helped me by showing me that people still care about others no matter where they come from or what they have done.

The thing I am most grateful for from "Refuge Ministries Canada" is being treated like an actual human being after being released from custody."

TESTIMONIALS

"I can hardly put into words the blessing that "Refuge Ministries Canada" is to me. Upon being granted parole, I left GVI, a federal penitentiary, to go to a drug and alcohol treatment, then lived in a halfway house. I did not have the option to return to my family in my hometown, and I had no idea what kind of housing I would find.

Having safe, stable, and affordable housing has been instrumental to the success of my post-incarceration journey. But that's just the start of what "Refuge Ministries Canada" has done for me.

Their unconditional support, their friendship, and their open-door policy have truly shown me how Christ's Love is manifest in those who follow His ways."

"Years ago, I worked as a federal chaplain at a halfway house I learned so much about the value of faith-based community friendships for men and women returning to the community.

Alan Campbell has devoted his adult life to Jesus-inspired care for people being released from jail. He is humble and virtuous in his approach and remains focused on the mission. I am grateful to know "Refuge Ministries Canada" and to serve them when I can."
